Elba enjoys "Pumpkins on the Square"

The Elba Chamber of Commerce hosted its annual "Pumpkins on the Square" last Thursday evening, Oct. 31, and once again the event proved successful as the streets were full with people. Around the courthouse, there were plenty of activities for the youngsters to enjoy including a mini and distributed so as to support haunted house, and the chamber managed a refreshment booth. However, the main attraction again and fund the Elba City School | this year was the participation of the downtown merchants as they set up outside the businesses and passed out candy to those dressed for trick-or-treating. Although the event is dedicated to the amusement of the children, many adults got in on the fun as they also dressed for the occasion. This was certainly the case with the crew at The Briar Patch as they wore costumes and created a festive atmosphere for the trick-or-treaters and others who stopped by just to chat. Those taking time to enjoy the event were (from left): Al Baxter, Dorothy Vaughn, Mary Sue Kelley, Jimmy Harrison, and the masked man lurking from behind, Alberto Herrera. MONTH...During the regular monthly meeting of the New Brockton Town Council Monday evening, Nov. 7, Mayor Charles Cole presented a proclamation signifying the town's support of the month of November as National Hospice Month. By signing the proclamation, New Brockton joins cities across the nation in supporting and thanking hospice organizations for the work each does in helping those with terminally ill diseases. New Brockton council member Iody Stockey commented that his family had dealt with hospice in the past, and he believes these organizations and employees definitely should be commended for the work they do on a daily basis. Accepting the proclamation was Miriam Grace, community educator, for Covenant Hospice.

We heard a trick-or-treat story of a young man that just melts our heart. His mother didn't give us the okay to write about this, so his name will not be used for now. Anyway, this child was going around the downtown area collecting his fair share of candy when he wandered into the Elba Senior Citizens Center with his bag of goodies. When they explained there was no more candy to give to folks like him, this youngster . . . much wiser than his age would indicate handed them all his collection of candies so they would have something for the next children who came into the Center! Folks, someone has instilled "the right stuff" in at least one Elba child. That one incident far overshadows some of the rudeness we heard from demanding children that evening.

It will be interesting to see the outcome of the U. S. Senate race in Minnesota. The leading candidate (a Democrat) and his wife were killed in a tragic plane crash a few days before the election and former vice president Walter Mondale stepped in to replace him. All that is routine and was to be expected. The thing that shocked us were the events surrounding the memorial service held for the plane crash victims. It turned into an old fashioned political rally! We know that politics are usually 'take no prisoner" type operations, but it is a sorry situation when a person's death is just another golden opportunity to get in some party politics. It is rarely that yours truly would ever agree with Minnesota Governor Jesse Ventura, the wrestler, but we share his indignation this time around

WHAT DOES THE BIBLE SAY ABOUT?

A Service of the Elba Church of Christ Brewery Begs For Pity

Bobby Duncan, long time evangelist for the Adamsville Church of Christ in Adamsville, AL, now deceased, is very timely indeed. We have been promised that if Elba goes wet then the tax money from the sale of alcohol will go to support our schools, but yet, as the following article points out. not everyone who wants to have alcohol will want to pay the taxes on the sale of it.) On the back of an eighteen wheeler delivering beer is a sign which reads:

"Taxes on the beer delivered by this truck add $265,000 to the price for beer in Alabama." I don't know about you, but that stirs me more than just a little, it seem the rest of the story also needs to be told. 1. It needs to be said that the $265,000 does not begin to pay for the work-days missed by those who drink that beer It does not begin to pay for the homes broken because of the drinking of that beer. It does not begin to pay for the children who are made orphans because of that beer 4. It does not begin to pay for the discomfort of children who go to school without comfortable clothes because of that beer It does not begin to pay for the child neglect brought about by

6. It does not begin to pay for the child abuse caused by that beer. 7. It does not begin to pay for the battering of wives that beer

8. It does not begin to pay for the broken hearts of mothers and daddies, brothers and sisters, grandmothers and grandfathers of those children who lost their lives in highway accidents because of that beer.

If the peddlers of beer want any sympathy from me, they will have to think up something better than crying over what little extra taxes their customers pay for the privilege of being such a blight on our society. Where is the man, woman, boy, or girl who has ever been made better as a result of drinking beer or any other alcoholic beverage? (Our school children will not be made better if the sale of alcoholic beverages is allowed in the city of Elba. A "sin" tax levied on the sale of alcohol cannot pay for the destruction that alcohol will bring to Elba. Vote to,
